

Chakras and Colour Healing – Spiritual Chakras.

Namaste,

In the last blog post it was all about the 7 main eastern chakras. This blog is about the lesser known but equally as important spiritual chakras.

There is where the different colours come into play. Unfortunately with the mass appeal with the normal 7 chakra eastern system, all the information which will be in this blog will be from the book, "Take charge of your life" by the much loved and informative author Patricia Diane Cota-Robles.

As taken from: <http://www.eraofpeace.org/about-us/>

This system has also the 7 rays, but it is slightly different. The different colours of the rays are as follows:

- 1st ray – Blue
- 2nd ray – yellow
- 3rd ray – pink
- 4th ray – crystal white
- 5th ray – green
- 6th ray – gold and ruby
- 7th – violet

So we know the rays have a certain property of attribute associated with them. In the other chakra post, I mentioned about the different colours and something the shading within the colours, being associated with the wavelength the person is emitting at.

A point which I feel needs to be addressed is the fact the locations of the spiritual chakras at alternative locations of the eastern chakras which we all know and love. However, there are a few spiritual chakras which come
